IMPORTANT HEARING INFORMATION

Property owners who disagree with the Assessor's Notice of Value Change can appeal that decision to the Board of Equalization (BOE). The deadline to petition the BOE is the second Monday in July.

The mission of the BOE is to provide a fair and impartial venue for property owners to challenge the valuation and classification of real and personal property that is subject to taxation.

The BOE is charged with hearing appeals, including but not limited to, determinations of real and personal property, exemption denials, and current use determinations. Members of the BOE also are responsible for assuring that all real and personal property entered on the County's assessment roll is at true and fair market value.

Tax relief for qualified citizens is available through the Missouri Property Tax Credit Claim (MO-PTC). This program is administered by the Missouri Department of Revenue.

If your concern is the amount of tax you pay, the BOE does not have authority to change the amount. Although value and tax are interrelated, the process for determining each part is separate. The focus of the BOE is to determine the fair and equitable value regardless of the tax amount.

There are several conditions or situations under which property value(s) may be affected. The most important information in determining real property value are the facts about the property. The metrics used in value estimates include land area, size of home, age, rooms, bathroom count, basement area and finish, garage area, and amenities such as patio, deck, fireplace, pool, outbuildings, etc. This is factual data. Verifying this data at lookups.sccmo.org/assessor or using the QR code on your notice will narrow the focus of dispute.

The BOE will hear evidence and review supporting documentation from the property owner and the Assessor's office and ask pertinent questions that may assist in determining the fair market value. Documentation or valuation evidence may include photographs of the interior, exterior, and surrounding area; recent comparable sale prices or appraisal; comparable assessments; current rental amounts; current expenses; adverse conditions or estimates of cost to cure deficiencies. After hearing all the evidence, the BOE will deliberate and render a decision based on the evidence presented. You will be notified of this decision in writing. The meetings are recorded.

If you submitted evidence during an informal hearing with the Assessor's office, you would need to submit the evidence again to the BOE with your appeal form. The BOE is not affiliated with the Assessor's office. Any evidence you submitted to the Assessor for your informal hearing will not be shared with the BOE.

If you are an agent representing a property owner, mandatory license law prohibits any person who is not licensed or certified by the Missouri Real Estate Appraisers Commission as provided in Sections 339.500 to 339.549, RSMo, to, for a fee, develop and communicate a real estate appraisal before the State Tax Commission or a local BOE unless such person is exempt from licensure and certification pursuant to Section 339.501.5, RSMo Supp. 1998 (OPINION NO. 79-99).
